Skill Information

Acquiring Information
In this phase, students will work for:

- Improve their overall tennis I.Q.
- Pass a quiz on the GreatBase Tennis online course
- Begin to build and implement an at-home practice routine
- Learn about and set short and long-term goals
- Determine their Myers-Biggs personality type
- Learn the information and checkpoints of the seven basic tennis strokes

Skill Acquisition

Applying Information
In this phase, the student will work for:

- Apply the information learned in the previous level
- Make contact with the ball, while maintaining form

Skill Acquisition Plus

Implement Information
In this phase, the student will work for:

- Maintain appropriate contact point, aim, and control of the ball in a live ball situation

Competitive Training Plus

Master the Information
During this phase, the student has learned all the information and is working on refining his or her skills in competitive, live ball situations.

Competitive Training

Execute Information
During this phase, the student will work for:

- Learn to apply the information in the previous level to a competitive live ball situation
- Players at this level are learning to compete, while maintaining an emphasis on development, rather than winning
