MEET THE CEO

John Borden is ready to find excellence where it lives... Memphis Communities!

@tennismemphis.org

Hello Tennis Memphis!

My name is John Borden, the new CEO of Tennis Memphis, and I'm thrilled to come aboard as we enter our 25th year of service to the Memphis community.

My first four weeks have been illuminating and showed me that Tennis Memphis is like one tree with many strong branches: Community Facilities, Passionate Staff and Coaches, Supportive Community Leaders, Impactful Teachers and Tutors, and most importantly, the community we serve.

As we plan for the next twenty-five years, I believe we should also commemorate our remarkable past. 2026 will be a celebratory year for Tennis Memphis' as we honor 25 Years of Serving Dreams!

I am a big believer in finding excellence where it lives and I have seen first hand that excellence does indeed live and thrive in Memphis communities. Working with our key partners, Memphis Parks & Recreation and the City of Memphis, Tennis Memphis aims to strengthen our communities even further.

This year, Tennis Memphis has awarded $189,773 in Serving Dreams Scholarships to 46 Memphis youth. We currently support 7 middle and high schools and plan to expand to 12 by 2026. As a lifelong sport, tennis also benefits community health, and we now proudly host almost 50 USTA teams.

Do you know where to put your philanthropic dollars at the end of the year? Perhaps consider supporting Tennis Memphis as we begin our next 25 Years of Serving Dreams for Memphis!

Proudly,

John Borden
